FAMILY HISTORY CENTER

The Family History Center has a large collection of records in the Microfiche Collection. I have been printing the titles available for the states that are heavily researched. The microfiche collection is arranged alphabetically by state with the general information at the front and the material for each of the counties following in alphabetical order. Please be sure to consult the notebook listing the titles before ordering microfiche found in the Family History Library Catalog, so that we do not have duplicates..

Family History Library Catalog is a registered trademark of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As we leave the old year behind us with the holidays over, it's time to greet a great new year. We have some excellent programs lined up this coming year as well as other different activities and new things in the making.

To be able to do these things and have a good society, it takes the help of all members.

I personally would like to see more people attend out meetings. So come and see what's happening within the Reno County Genealogical Society during these drab winter months.

Hope to see you one and all.

President Barbara Hobbick

COMPUTERS AND GENEALOGICAL SOFTWARE

Are you using a genealogical software program on your computer?

Some genealogical magazines/periodicals have excellent articles explaining the advantages of certain genealogical programs and hints for using some of their features. They can be found in the periodical section of the Kansas Room.

The National Genealogical Society magazines have articles in each issue and they can be found in the Computer Interest Group (NGS/CIG) section of the magazine. In the past year, articles covering PAF, GEDCOM, Ancestral Quest, Family Tree Maker, Roots IV, The Master Genealogist, Wholly Genes (windows version of The Master Genealogist), and Family Gathering have all been reviewed. The Genealogical Helper is another magazine that gives readers a chance to discuss computer programs and how they solved problems.

The latest PAF Users Unlimited has the following articles: Most Common Questions and Problems; Using the Match/Merge Features of PAF; Installing and Setting Up an ICON for Personal Ancestral File in Windows 95; Favorite WEB Sites; Creating and Using a PAF data directory; TIPS from our Members and Questions from our Members. In the Quarterly, there is a discussion about the release of PAF version 3.0. Possibly April? When the new version, with its new file structure and newer version of GEDCOM becomes the PAF standard, most shareware and auxiliary programs will become obsolete. It is suggested that anyone having these programs take advantage of them now!

Consumer Protection - Caveat Emptor: Obits to Order by Helen Hinchliff, Chair, NGS Ethics Committee.

"The business that fakes obituaries also fabricates marriage certificates. They do not look real, but a computer and a laser printer can make authentic-looking documents. Where there's a will there's a way."

"Genealogical fraud and forgery are not new. For every person with something to prove there's someone who'll make him pay. The trouble is we all wind up paying."

This is a must read article for everyone.

EXCERPTS FROM THE CLOTHIER CHRONICLES

Edited by Grant and Jaime Clothier & Tony Clemente

Artemus R. Clothier is the common ancestor for the Clothier family of Reno County and elsewhere. Artemus R. Clothier was born in New Ashford, Mass., Sept. 14, 1787 and was married to Miss Lucy Tyler of Silver Creek in 1809 or 1810. His second wife was Miss Lucy Sherwood of Berkshire Co., Mass., who he married in 1826, and he married his third wife, Miss Mary Montgomery Harris in 1833. He was the father of eleven or twelve children, eight were living when the Silver Creek, Mass. newspaper reported his funeral sermon, March 7, 1879. He lived his entire life in Silver Creek and was an influential member of the Community.

Chauncy Clothier was born in Chautauq, County, New York, on December 25, 1817.

He married Priscilla Sherman in Illinois on April 30, 1836; therefore he must have left home in 1835 at the age of 17. Their first child, Nelson, was born in Cook County on April 2, 1839.

Land records for Rock County, Wisconsin Territory show that he purchased land March 4, 1841 in Lima Township. Newton Sherman, their second son, was born in Rock County on June 14, 1842.

On March 8, 1844, Chauncy and Mary Jane sold 40 acres on land in Rock County to a Mr. Ira Webb. On May 3rd of the same year, he received a land patent from the U.S. Government in adjacent Jefferson County. Records show that Samuel T. Clothier, Chauncy's older brother came to Jefferson County in 1844, and the brothers were joined a short time later by Eliza, their sister, and her husband, William Moore.

Priscilla must have died in the summer or fall of 1844, since Chauncy married Mary Jane Hall in Lima, Rock County WI on March 16, 1845. Their first child, James Byron, was born August 13, 1848.

In 1849, a quit claim deed to land in Rock County was given to Edwin Hall, Mary Jane's brother. The 1850 Federal Census lists Chauncy and Mary Jane in Iowa County, Iowa. They lived 17 years in Iowa. Ten children were born to him and Mary Jane. Nelson, Newton and their half-brother, James Byron, served in the Civil War.

In the spring of 1866, he stated that he was leaving Iowa for a warmer climate and the family moved to Bates County, MO. They lived in Bates County for eight years. Two more children were born to him and Mary Jane.

The lure of the frontier sounded one final call. A history of the Peace Creek Church of Christ published in the Sylvania, Kansas newspaper describes Chauncy's migration to Kansas:

The Peace Creek congregation of the Church of Christ had its beginning in 1874 when Chauncy Clothier (a pioneer preacher) and Geo. Ardrey, Sanford Wilhite, Henry Marshall, John Groves, Isaiah Wilhite, and J. B. Clothier and their families left their homes in western Missouri and come by wagon train to the Peace Creek area in western Reno County.

While enroute they had not been negligent to stop and hold worship service on the Lord's Day. After reaching their homesteads and building their sod houses, they met for worship in their homes until 1890 when the original meeting house was completed.

Chauncy's final 24 years were spent in the Peace Creek community. He became the owner of 640 acres of productive farm land, a respected leader in the community, and the promoter of many good works among his neighbors. He died at the age of 80 on April 3, 1898.

Chauncy had an insatiable thirst of adventure. He was in Illinois before Chicago was incorporated as a city, and in the Wisconsin Territory while hostile Indians were a constant threat to the tiny band of settlers. He was among the first settlers of Iowa County and he was in the first wave of homesteaders in western Reno County, Kansas where he endured the grasshopper plague of 1874, drought, prairie fires, and rumors of Indian raids. Only in Missouri did he settle in an established community.

He was a leader in every community where he located. He was town treasurer in Jefferson, Wisconsin, and the first Justice of the Peace in Fillmore Township, Iowa County. Upon moving to Bates County, Missouri he was once again elected Justice of the Peace of Boone Township. There is no evidence he had political ambitions; rather, his neighbors seemed to recognize his leadership qualities and trustworthy character.

Finally, he was a man of spiritual integrity and deep religious convictions. He seems to have been instrumental in establishing the Church of Christ wherever he settled.

The stories about Mary Jane (Vol. 3, No. 2) and some of the children of Chauncy and Mary Jane Clothier, can be found in "The Clothier Chronicles" newsletters that have been placed in the Hutchinson Public Library, Kansas Room by Freda Werner, a member of the Reno County Genealogical Society.

Freda Werner's Lineage:

Freda Clothier Werner
Wiley Albertus Clothier
James Byron Clothier
Chauncey/Chauncy Clothier
Artemus Clothier

(Editors Note: Chauncy's children were: Nelson W. (Vol. 2 No. 1), Newton, James Bryon, Charles Milton (Vol.2, No. 2), Ulysses Marion, Alva Ernest, Albert Challon, Wilfred Ellsworth, Etta Lulu, Evangeline, Emma Lucy, Nina Viola, Ida May, and Samantha.)
